We look forward to welcoming you to Harrow in LEAF's 21st Show as part of Headstone Village Show.

Hopefully, this year's weather will mean a productive year on our allotments and in our gardens and maybe a look in this schedule will encourage you to think about entering what you have grown. However, if that doesn't appeal to you there are lots of classes for showing off your skills in areas such as art, craft, wine-making and baking.

The entries to the Harrow in LEAF show will once again be displayed in the beautiful and historic Great Barn at Headstone Manor. Our show is part of a long tradition of produce competitions which reflects Harrow's agricultural past.

This year is Harrow Museum's Ruby Anniversary. As it was founded in 1986, there will be an Eighties theme to the whole show. It is also the 21st anniversary of the Harrow in LEAF show, something traditionally celebrated as "The Key to the Door". And this Lunar Year is "The Year of the Horse", so you will see some of our classes reflect these themes.

Do have a think about what classes you and your friends and family would like to enter, you don't have to grow the biggest vegetables or the most perfect flowers, every entry helps make the show. Exhibitors get free admission so it's definitely a great way to be part of this special event.

Don't be afraid of showing

Tahini and Date Cookies (vegan)

Pre-heat the oven to 180°C (160°C fan) or Gas Mark 4
Line two large baking trays with greaseproof paper

100g tahini + 2 tbsp water
60ml neutral oil
45g golden syrup
2 tsp vanilla extract
120g caster sugar

125g plain flour
75g jumbo oats
1 tsp bicarbonate of soda
½ tsp salt
130g chopped dates

Put the tahini, water, oil, golden syrup and vanilla in a bowl, and give everything a good mix until smooth. Stir in the sugar. In a separate bowl, mix all the remaining ingredients. Pour in the tahini mixture and stir thoroughly to make a thick dough. Divide the dough into 12, roll into balls, put them on the baking trays and flatten them with your hand. Bake for 14-16 minutes, until browned and the edges are firm but the middle is still a little soft. Leave to cool for a few minutes, then transfer to a wire rack to cool completely.

Ginger Loaf Cake (vegan)

(Thanks to the Domestic Gothess for permission to use this recipe)

Pre-heat the oven to 180°C (160°C fan) or Gas Mark 4.
2lb loaf tin (approx 11.5 x 21.5 cm), greased and lined.

230g plain flour
1¾ teaspoons bicarb of soda
3 teaspoons ground ginger
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon mixed spice
¼ teaspoon nutmeg

pinch salt
100g vegan block butter
100g golden syrup
100g treacle
100g dark brown soft sugar
300ml unsweetened non-dairy milk

Sift the flour, bicarbonate of soda, ginger, cinnamon, mixed spice, nutmeg, and salt into a large bowl and mix. Place the butter, golden syrup, treacle and brown sugar in a saucepan over a low heat, stir until melted then whisk in the milk. Pour the butter mixture into the dry ingredients. Stir with a balloon whisk until no dry lumps remain. The batter will be very liquid. Pour the batter into the loaf tin. Bake for about 50 minutes until a skewer inserted into the centre comes out clean. Leave the cake to cool in the tin for about 30 minutes then carefully turn it out onto a wire rack and leave to cool completely.
