Over the past decade... local girl Sonia Moore has built up a reputation for delivering imaginative and highly professional garden designs and services.

Her team look after gardens all over the borough of Harrow and take on projects from Highgate to Hampstead, and beyond.

What makes the garden girl company unique is that it is a collective of RHS trained horticulturalists who really know their plants, combined with some of the best hard landscaping professionals in the industry and highly skilled garden maintenance specialists.

No project is too big or too small and every one starts with a visit, a chat and a cup of tea! Perhaps you just need a one off visit to get your garden back under control? Whatever the brief, the team is here to help.
